NEW PRODUCTS IN OUR 2025 CATALOGUE

H.H.H. by Philippe Starck

H.H.H. is an object of extraordinary elegance and design and transforms every moment spent on it into a truly royal experience. The frame is made from recycled material while the seat comes in a choice of finishes: recycled leather, eco-friendly textured in Black and Tobacco, and super-glossy in various colours. H.H.H. is a style symbol as well as being highly functional. Now, the Kartell for Liberty edition comes in six lively Liberty floral print fabrics. Faithful to its pioneering role in the search for new and different forms of technological innovation, Kartell has decided to take a step further by experimenting with a new high-tech industrial printing process called "graphic impression". This technique is used to produce 4 floral and geometric patterns in different colour versions.

A furnishing system in removable bouclé fabric, in the colours Cream, Pink, Grey, Powder Blue, Indigo and Green, comprising:

- Sofa with LH/RH peninsula
- Armchair with LH/RH back
- Pouffe
- Carpets

The new AALAND upholstered furniture collection by Patricia Urquiola is inspired by the imagery of archipelagos – groups of neighbouring islands that create a feeling of cohesion within a fluid space. This distinctive concept permeates every element of the collection; the soft, organic shapes of the seats extend and merge, creating little islands that generate new spaces of comfort and togetherness. AALAND challenges the classical rules of upholstery to embrace free forms and unexpected, multifunctional shapes. The collection offers numerous small seats that, together, compose a landscape dotted with opportunities for socialising. Sofas, armchairs, large and small pouffes are presented as miniature islands that connect and complement each other using an organic language. No upholstered piece stands alone, but all contribute to a cohesive whole. The upholstered items in the collection, individually designed in compact sizes, offer the flexibility to be easily moved and arranged as needed.

- Coffee table
- Side table
- Large planter
- Small planter

Made from recycled material for indoor and outdoor use. Available in the colours Ivory, Powder Pink, Anthracite, Lilac.

Patricia Urquiola's CORTEZA side-tables and planters are made of recycled material, with striations reminiscent of the plant world that give the appearance of natural barks. The elements include a side table, a coffee table and two planters, all designed to blend perfectly into the environment, adding a natural and harmonious touch.

ALBERT by Ludovica Serafini + Roberto Palomba

- Colours: White, Black, Bordeaux, Blue

ALBERT by Ludovica Serafini + Roberto Palomba is a table that embodies Kartell's policy of bringing classic elements and stylistic features into the contemporary world and reinterpreting them in unexpected materials. In this case, the legs are shaped in a homage to the past that Ludovica Serafini + Roberto Palomba have chosen to use not only as a decorative theme but as a structural element too. The legs are inspired by those made by André Charles Boulle, the French craftsman of the late 1700s who was one of the first to create the sinuous shape that went on to become so popular as an aesthetic. The table is crafted from aluminium with an edge that accommodates a wide range of tops. Its single-colour look is based on a large ceramic surface. ALBERT now also comes in a highly durable, outdoor version with an exceptional glossy finish.
